BERLIN (AP)—Austria formally rejected today Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's proposal that the Big Four powers keep troops in the country even after conclusion of a treaty giving Austria its independence.

Foreign Minister Leopold Figl said such an arrangement would mean there would be no liberation of his country.

By PRESTON GROVER
BERLIN (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers decided on another discussion of Austria's independence today despite a deadlock over Soviet conditions which blasted their last chance for a European settlement at this conference.

Admiral before pleas from the West, Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov declared yesterday Russian troops will remain in Austria until a German peace treaty is written. To this new condition, he added an old one—the troublesome Trieste problem also must be solved first.

Western delegations indicated clearly the conditions could not be accepted. They now see no chance for completion of the German peace treaty for years. And a Yugoslav-Italian squabble blocks efforts of Britain and the United States to pull their troops from Trieste, the strategic free territory at the head of the Adriatic.

Secretary of State Dulles denounced the Russian tactics as shabby. He said the Molotov proposal "gives me a cold chill."

Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl, who had pleaded at the ministers' table for his country's freedom, was grim. Within Austria—a nation of seven million still waiting for redemption of the Big Four's wartime pledge to restore her sovereignty—the reaction was deep gloom. Hitlerian and Allied occupations have stretched out 16 years.

In effect, Russia has thrown up a roadblock to Austria's independence that may stand for years. With Austria now added, Molotov's interlocking network of diplomatic snares for the West has grown appreciably in the first three weeks of a conference called to relax tensions.

GEORGE KENNAN IS HONORED BY EAST BERLIN VFW

George F. Kennan, East Berlin R. D. former U. S. ambassador to Russia, was honored as "East Berlin's Most Distinguished Citizen," at the seventh annual dinner of the Richard J. Gross Post 8896, VFW, of East Berlin at the post home.

Presentation of a plaque honoring Mr. Kennan for his "lifelong dedication to the foreign service of the United States" and naming him as "East Berlin's most distinguished citizen," was made by Clair E. Gross, commander of the post. Alfred Ceres, State Department VFW public relations officer, was toastmaster.

Telling the group that "this is the finest honor I have ever received," the former ambassador, now with the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton, added, "It is more deeply appreciated since I returned home to East Berlin not knowing if my neighbors would accept me. I found I had nothing to fear."

Hid In Movie
He added, "When I was here last year it was too soon after I had been declared persona non grata by the Russian government for me to say anything about it. But now I think perhaps I can tell how I felt when the word came. I was in Geneva when the embassy called to tell me that the Russian government had ban-

BOY SCOUTERS GO TO CEMETERY ON PILGRIMAGE

Several thousand Boy Scouts from throughout Central Pennsylvania were gathered here this morning for the annual Lincoln Pilgrimage sponsored by the York-Adams Boy Scout Council.

U. S. Senator James H. Duff praised the scouts and eulogized the martyred Civil War president in a brief talk given at services in the National Cemetery held as part of the Scout Pilgrimage.

Climaxing the annual Scout Week observance, the program here brought scouts rolling in by car and bus in an ever increasing flow starting about 8 o'clock this morning. They arrived from throughout Adams and York counties, from Harrisburg, Carlisle, Hershey, Lancaster, Lebanon, Milton and other communities within a 50-mile radius.

Come By Business

Some arrived individually, accompanied by their parents. Some came in cars jammed with eight or ten boys. Many were in buses secured to transport entire troops.

Formation of the parade was in the college area along E. Lincoln Ave., N. Washington St. and the area around the college gymnasium. The vehicles transporting the youngsters poured into that section and then left for pre-arranged parking sites on the battlefield, at Hunt Ave., Hancock Ave. and at the National Museum.

The buses and cars were parked where the boys would be able to reach them easily after the services this morning in the National Cemetery.

To Cook Meals on Field

After leaving the cemetery the scouts are scheduled to go to Pardee Field, the Wheatfield and Pitzer's woods where they are to cook their noon meal. After that the scouts will tour the field, the Cyclorama and National Museum before returning to their homes.

Walter Morse, Dillsburg R. D., formerly of Biglerville, headed the parade that marched from Lincoln Ave. to the National Cemetery at 9:45 o'clock this morning.

Shortly before the parade began Joseph L. Rosensteel, of the National Museum, told the scouts they were located "on land across which Union troops fled at the opening of the Battle of Gettysburg and upon which Confederates trod as they followed the retreating Union troops. Your route of parade to the National Cemetery will follow the path of Union troops as they fell back before the Confederate onslaught. And at the National Cemetery you will be standing at the spot where the Union troops rallied to hurl back the Confederates and go on to win the decisive battle of the civil war. You can imagine, as you stand in the cemetery, the scene as the Confederates smashed against the Union line a number of times, and came within a few feet of breaking through." He also gave other details of the battle and the events that the scouts were about to see.

Wreath Is Placed

Engaged

MISS LONGENECKER

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Longenecker, Biglerville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Pauline, 702 Madison Ave., York, to Richard Arthur Brockley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Brockley, 636 Salem Ave., York.

County Couple Is Wed Here On Friday

Miss Gwill Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Blair Thomas, Aspers R. D., became the bride of Robert Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taylor, Aspers, in a double-ring ceremony performed Friday evening at the Foursquare Gospel Church by the pastor, Rev. Harold L. Myers, at 7:30 o'clock.

The bride wore a light blue suit, navy accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. Her attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Thomas, Aspers. Mr. Thomas is a brother of the bride and Mrs. Thomas is a sister of the groom. Mrs. Thomas wore a navy blue suit, navy accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the recreation room of the church. The couple, both of whom attended the Biglerville High School, will move into their newly-furnished home at Biglerville R. D. Both are employed at Knouse Foods Inc., Peach Glen.

TANK CORPS UNIT WILL HOLD 1954 REUNION HERE

The World Wars Tank Corps Association will hold its 1954 reunion in Gettysburg and Fort George Gordon Meade, Baltimore, August 27 and 28, Tom White, National adjutant, Indianapolis, informed The Gettysburg Times today.

The reunion here will mark the return of the Tanks Corps Association to its original base of operation, the former World War I training base, Camp Colt, Gettysburg Battlefield.

Many Tank Corps veterans from World War I, II, and the Korean campaign, with their wives and families, are expected to attend the reunion. Association directors recently pointed toward reunion preparations in Gettysburg as the "most elaborate" in the history of the association.

An article published in The Tanker, official publication of Battalion No. 1, World Wars Tank Corps Association, draws an analogy between the creation of the tank warfare branch at Camp Colt, here in 1917, its subsequent development, and U. S. tank-led victories in the three major conflicts since that time.

Fairfield Driver Is Jailed After Crash

Russell J. Baker, Fairfield R. 1, was placed in the county jail on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants following an accident at 1:45 o'clock this morning on Baltimore St.

Borough police, who brought the charge against Baker before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, said Baker collided with a parked car owned by Dewey Collins, Baltimore St., as Baker was turning into Baltimore from Wainwright Ave. Damage to Baker's car was $20 and to Collins' $125.

CARS COLLIDE

COMMUNISM IS NEW SLAVERY SAYS SPEAKER

Mrs. Herbert Patterson, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, declared that "slavery has been a very important word in our American way of life and has threatened it many times" in an address before the Gettysburg Chapter of the DAR at a Lincoln's Birthday luncheon in the Hotel Gettysburg Friday afternoon.

"Today," she said, "we find another type of slavery challenging Americanism. It is being attacked by the deception, deceit and cruelty of communism and socialism."

"The apathy and complacency of the American people and their failure to assume responsibility against this trend is accelerating rather than checking the threat to Americanism. President Eisenhower said 'If we combat communism we must have an alert and informed public and we must have grass roots, grass roots being each and every American's local responsibility.'"

Women Are Targets
"Women are special targets of communism," said Mrs. Patterson, "because, once converted, they become fanatics and dependable followers. They are easily planted. Such a woman could easily become a member of the mission society in the church of a mother whose son had been killed in battle. A yearning for peace or fear of another war would make such a mother a vulnerable subject and unknowingly, she would endanger that very belief for which her son had died to protect."

Mrs. C. H. Hett, regent of the Gettysburg chapter, said that the local group ranked third in the state in its contributions to Constitution Hall, Washington, D. C.

Other guests were: Mrs. Harper D. Sheppard, honorary vice president general, honorary state regent, and honorary regent of the Gettysburg chapter; Mrs. John A. Pritchey, state registrar, Harrisburg; Mrs. William C. Langston, president of the Regent's Club of Pennsylvania, York; Mrs. Luther Mathiot, regent of the Yorktown Chapter, York; (Continued On Page 2)

Jacob Henry Rau, 72, Dies At New Chester

Jacob Henry Rau, 72, New Chester, died at his home, Friday evening at 6:45 o'clock, following an illness of four and one-half years. He had been bedfast four weeks.

Mr. Rau was born in Shenandoah County, Va., and was the son of the late Jacob and Lydia (Kibler) Rau. He moved to New Chester from Virginia in 1921 and was a member of St. John's Reformed Church, New Chester.

He is survived by his second wife, Mrs. Alda C. (Minter) Rau; one son, Jacob F. Tiffin, Ohio; one grandchild; a brother, Hubert Rau, Tomsbrooke, Va., and two sisters, Mrs. Emma Rinker, East Berlin R. 2, and Mrs. Georgia Bowers, Tiffin, Ohio. His first wife, Lillie A. Boyce, died in 1924.

Funeral services Monday afternoon at 2 p.m. from the Fred F. Feiser Funeral Home, New Oxford, the Rev. Archie C. Rohrbough, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church, New Oxford, officiating. Interment in New Oxford Cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday evening after 7 o'clock.

Bearers included Paul A. Oyler, Richard Gardner and William Spence, Eagles, and J. E. Snyder, Arthur Warman and Chester Schriver Jr., Sons of Union Veterans.

Walters expired at the Adams County Novelty Company, Tuesday, as he prepared to fire the company boilers to begin the day's work. He was employed there as a day fireman.

Red Membership Is Called "Crime"

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) said yesterday that Congress should make Communist party membership a crime because "we have definitely established the fact that Communism is a criminal conspiracy."

Walter, ranking minority member of the House Un-American Activities committee, told the House the only reason this wasn't done before was because FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover had said such action would drive the party underground.

Greish; Mrs. Dale F. Shugart, president of the Cumberland County Republican Women and co-chairman of the Lincoln celebration there on Monday; Mrs. Chester Gross, State Senator Donald P. McPherson, Assemblyman Francis Worley, George W. Baker, chairman of the Executive Committee of the GOP organization in Adams County; Oliver Dickey, Cumberland County chairman; Judge Shugart and Harry McGlaughlin, secretary to Congressman Stauffer.

The Littlestown Men's Chorus sang "The Winter Song," "No Man Is An Island," "Joshua Fit the Battle of Jericho," "Fifty Cents" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic." The soloists were Stewart Long and Robert Degroff.

Chairman Bashore read a letter of congratulations from President Eisenhower urging Republicans here to "keep up the good work." Then a filmed Lincoln Day address by the President was presented to the audience that jam-packed the dining hall and overflowed into the grill room and lobby. President Eisenhower's address was broadcast over WGCT.

Congressman Ayres spoke of the importance of "being conservative without being reactionary and being liberal without being radical" and said that if the Republican party can follow that course "we need have no fears for the future of our nation."

Must Correct Mistakes

Forecasting a revision of the Taft-Hartley law "in behalf of labor with a small L and the man in the shop," Ayres said the GOP must go about correcting Democratic mistakes in a "constructive way."

He said the Democrats made a mistake during the last election in thinking that as long as "Americans had a full stomach they wouldn't vote for a change but it turned out they had a 'bellyful' instead."

Declaring that President Eisenhower had done "a great job in presenting a program that is acceptable to the people," Ayres said: "The Democrats are up against a man who has restored dignity to the White House, who is looked upon as a world authority on military affairs. Who among the Democrats can answer him and his aides on foreign policy? So the only chance left for an issue is for the Democrats to talk the nation into a depression."

The program concluded with the recitation of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address by Kenneth Sterner, a Gettysburg High School student, and the singing of "God Bless America." Dr. Ralph R. Greish, St. James Lutheran pastor who had given the invocation, pronounced the benediction.

After the dinner Congressman Ayres left for Ohio where he will speak tonight at another Lincoln dinner. Thursday night he delivered an address in Meadville, Pa.

FOURTH SHIP IS LAUNCHED

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—The S. S. Prairie Mariner, one of the largest and fastest dry-cargo vessels in the world, was launched today at the New York Shipbuilding Corp. yards.

The ship, named for the State of Illinois, is the fourth of five Mariners to be built at the Camden plant under a 1951 Congressional order. Actually, the S. S. Prairie-13,300 tons and 561 feet long—is the 30th Mariner launched. Twenty-four are now in service.

Mrs. Charles A. Wolverton, wife of the Republican representative from New Jersey's 1st congressional district, smashed the traditional bottle of champagne across the bow as the vessel slid down the ways.

Wolverton, in his christening address, spoke of what he called the poor condition of America's shipbuilding industry and noted that "shipbuilding is fast becoming a forgotten trade in the United States."

"I am confident that our future building programs will be geared to take up a lot of the slack in construction which took place in the years immediately following World War II."

MUSICAL ADDRESS

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Lincoln's Gettysburg Address has been set to music by composer Ferde Grofe, and the number will be given its premiere Sunday by the Santa Monica Symphony orchestra. It will be sung by Richard Hale, an actor noted for his characterizations of Lincoln on the stage.

POPE ON AIR SUNDAY

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Convening Pope Pius XII will speak by radio Sunday at 1:15 p.m., EST., to the world's sick.

The announcement was the firmest sign that the 77-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church definitely is recovering.

IKE BAGS TEN QUAIL, 2 SHY OF STATE LIMIT

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower, 10 quail to his credit already, arranged an early start today in a quest for more birds.

The President bagged the 10—two shy of the daily limit—within three hours after he arrived here yesterday afternoon to spend the weekend at the vacation plantation of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

Eisenhower and his party planned to spend most of the day in the fields with bird dogs and shotguns.

A half hour after the President got to Humphrey's place, known as Milestone, he had changed from business clothes to hunting togs and was ready to try his luck. He was the first dressed and he remarked smilingly to newsmen: "I'm probably ahead of everybody. Give me a chance to go hunting and I'm not going to fool around."

Returns Sunday

The President was accompanied from Washington by Humphrey, Cliff Roberts of New York, a retired investment banker and board chairman of the Augusta Ga. National Golf Club where Eisenhower sometimes plays; W. Alton Jones of New York, chairman of the Board of the Cities Service Co.; and James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

The President plans to fly back to the capital tomorrow afternoon. Eisenhower's hunting partners—Roberts, Jones and Humphrey—all reportedly had good luck in their foray for quail yesterday.

The President wore a tan corduroy cap, a bright green jacket and light gray whipcord hunting trousers with an extra thickness of sturdy suede leather down the front.

He also wore tough leather hunting boots which came well up his legs inside the trousers. The boots were protection against the poisonous snakes of the area. The night before the President arrived a bird dog was killed near the plantation by a snake.

Eisenhower started off with two shotguns tucked under one arm. One was a 410-gauge double barreled weapon, one barrel above the other—known as an "over and under" type. The other gun was a 20-gauge type with the more conventional side by side pair of barrels.

Eisenhower rode off to the hunt atop what he called a "pretty fancy hunting roadster," a rubber-tired, red-wheeled wagon drawn by two white mules.

This is the first time Eisenhower has been hunting in three years and Hagerty said he was enjoying it tremendously.

Files Claim For Mop, Bed Pillows

Chicken crates, 65 piano rolls, a dust mop, and two bed pillows are among the items listed by Mrs. Margaret Gladys Hartlaub as belonging to her and claimed by Clarence R. Hartlaub in an equity suit to partition personal property jointly owned.

In an answer to Mr. Hartlaub's complaint, filed Friday afternoon within the prothonotary's office, defendant denied that she and the plaintiff are co-owners of all personal property set forth in the original complaint.

Mrs. Hartlaub claims that many of the items listed in the complaint are personal and self-purchased gifts. She listed a chunk stove, dinner bell, three buckets and one tub, a blond upholstered love seat and cedar chest.

The defendant asks that one-half of the net proceeds of the sale of personal property jointly-owned be paid to the defendant.

"FORGIVE US LORD"

Oh, Lord forgive us for our sins . . . and fill our hearts with right . . . lead us toward the glory road . . . out of the dreary night . . . for we have erred and drifted from . . . Thy true and godly course . . . and now our hearts are clouded with . . . the aching of remorse . . . we walked with Satan many times . . . and practiced vice and sin . . . oh, Lord please help us in our fight . . . and guide us on to win . . . we call on You because we know . . . unbounded is Thy grace . . . and in our hearts we long to see . . . Your wonders face to face . . . temptation beats relentlessly . . . a never-ending swarm . . . we beg of You to take our hands . . . and lead us from the storm . . . so when the lamp of life grows dim . . . on heaven's train we'll board . . . to dwell with You eternally . . . If You forgive us Lord.

BOY SCOUTS

held over the past half century. Dr. Walter C. Langsam, president of Gettysburg College, presided at the ceremony. The Gettysburg College band played the Star Spangled Banner to open the service, after which Rev. Herman Stuenkel gave the invocation. Explorer Scout James Albright of Post 75, Gardeners, led the 10,000 scouts in a recitation of the scout oath and law.

Following Senator Duff's talk, two scouts marched slowly through the ranks of the assemblage bearing a wreath to be placed on Lincoln's speech memorial while the band played the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

See Lincoln Impersonator

The scouts reached the memorial and placed the wreath. Then they turned and saluted as Lincoln impersonator, Paul Uebler of Ephrata, recited Lincoln's Gettysburg address while the band played softly in the background. At the conclusion of the address Bugler Eugene Bollinger of York sounded taps.

The program concluded with benediction by the Rev. Fr. Wallace Sawdy and the playing of "America."

Along the parade route the scouts saw part of Gettysburg's history re-enacted. At the Western Maryland station, Lincoln was seen as he arrived in Gettysburg in 1863. At the Wills House he was shown from a window. At the Presbyterian Church he was entering the church with John Burns. At the Jennie Wade house, the only civilian killed at Gettysburg was shown as she appeared a few moments before being shot while baking bread.

TANK CORPS UNIT

March would probably not have occurred.

"The nation," he said "is fully aware of the heroic efforts of General Dean, MacArthur, Taylor, Van Fleet, Walker and other leaders in Korea who used the tank forces to drive back and forth across the peninsula . . . but for this valued arm of offense and defense America could not have welded victory out of defeat, retreat, and other humiliation."

Referring to the development of tank tactics at Camp Colt during World War I, Hutton said that General Eisenhower, Patton, and Parks received their baptism into duty with the armored service "on the hallowed ground of Gettysburg, where the brave boys of the Blue and Gray carried on heroically in the Civil War."

Thought Of Gettysburg

It is fitting, he related, that the background of the American Tank Corps, founded by the veterans of old Camp Colt, should live on and be joined by the veterans of World War II and the Korean campaign.

"We can well contemplate that General Eisenhower while planning the North African campaign, the Sicilian campaign, the Italian drives, and in planning for the great campaigns of Europe had ever in his mind the campaigns and efforts of the Civil War heroes of Gettysburg. He could not forget."

"General Patton, in his tank campaigns in North Africa and Sicily, and then the brilliant tactical efforts he showed across Europe, and his drive to relieve the beleaguered heroes of Bastogne, could well have received the spark which had its inception at Gettysburg."

"General Parks loved that old gang at Gettysburg. He has lived those days over and over throughout his life in the Army and is devoted to the policy of perpetuation of this historical background, and in his leadership of an army to the very gates of Berlin he no doubt was actuated by memories of the historic leaders at Gettysburg."

dents of the school. As spokesman for the small group of GI "Foster Fathers," he issued a plea for Adams County aid "to help put a smile back on the faces of these forgotten ones."

Find Unheated School

Kopp wrote that last December personnel from the 1st Radio Squadron, Mobile — coincidentally the first group of Americans ever to visit the school—were conducted about the classrooms and grounds by the supervisor, a kindly man known only as Mr. Sagi.

The airmen found the ancient structure a veritable flu-trap. Within its thin, rotting walls huddled 80 children of varied age, including 30 blind orphans, learning the three R's.

The first classroom doubled as the dining hall and dispensary. It, like the rest, was not heated and the five students were shivering with cold. "These students," Kopp said, "were in the most advanced class of the blind. They were clean and neat in appearance, but their clothing was threadbare and their feet very poorly shod for so cold a room."

Hear Blind Recite

Within the next room four little blind toddlers were engrossed in braille recitations. Their teacher, also blind, listened attentively as the four recited their lessons in unison. Her ears, sharply tuned through a life time of blindness, were able to pick out even the most minute flaw in the recitations.

Across the corridor two blind boys were patiently playing the art of massage. Kenn sensitivity had been developed to such a degree in their fingertips that they were able to trace almost any muscle in the human body.

A volleyball game was in progress in the school gymnasium which is a structure 40x40 feet and 30 feet high. "It gives one a most peculiar feeling," Kopp writes, "to participate in a game as active as this and yet absolutely noiseless except for the scuffle of feet and the sound of a leather ball hitting on bare hands."

Children Work Hard

The former Heidlersburg resident told of visiting a speech class where an 11-year-old boy was learning to talk. His efforts and frustration were plainly visible. "If you wonder how difficult a task this is when you have never been able to speak before," Kopp cited as an example, "try to wiggle your ears when you know it can't be done."

The youngster was ready to burst into tears when the instructor had the class stand up and do a skaters waltz around the room. Relaxed, the boy finally uttered the desired sound and immediately burst into a large smile of accomplishment.

The airmen next visited an art class where girls learned to knit and crochet while the boys drew and painted. One boy, about five years of age, had his head completely swathed in bandages but he was happily making smiley curls come out of the chimney of the house he was drawing.

"These children show a remarkable talent for art work," the letter continues. "Perhaps they appreciate its beauty because there has been so much ugliness in their lives, and it is little enough they can do and do well, with their infirmities."

Yanks Give Party

On December 26 the Americans gave a party for the children of the school. The Yanks gave the youngsters musical instruments, coal, boots, underwear, ice cream, cake and other refreshments. Before the youngsters presented a little performance Mr. Sagi addressed the American servicemen as follows:

"We, both teachers and parents, are doing our best to educate and instruct these children considering deeply a happier life for them in the future. I only regret that we can not do so as efficiently as we desire due to the lack of funds and necessary equipment."

"We heartily thank you for the kind visits to our school and for the many presents such as drawing materials, coal, etc., which you have given to these poor unfortunate pupils. In doing so, you have helped us, who are struggling in these trying times, to achieve our purpose."

"We cannot find in our hearts the right words to express our gratitude for the many kind hearted Americans who have called at our school today bearing wonderful gifts and good cheer to help the children celebrate a happier Christmas than otherwise would occur."

"The recreation today, as you know, is to be given entirely by the deaf and blind children, and so, we are afraid that you will not enjoy it as much as we would like. In view of this situation, we express our desire that you bear with them and remain to see their performances as long as your time permits. We also express our desire that you come to this school often and encourage the pupils in their struggle. I sincerely believe that these visits not only benefit the children and this school but contribute greatly to the promoting of warm and firm relations between the United States and Japan and in bringing human happiness and world peace closer to their ultimate goal."

Receive Gift Parcels

Gift parcels were presented to the school through publicizing appeals for donations by the sponsoring air group. Principal projects of the "Foster fathers" — after clothing and food essentials have been supplied — is to build a new tile bath house to take the place of the present outmoded Japanese type (a wooden tub on a dirt floor).

The 1st Radio Squadron, Mobile, has contracted for a continuing supply of fuel to heat the building "so that the children will not have to wear their coats to stay warm in the class rooms," and land has been purchased adjacent to the school to provide playground space. Besides this, Kopp said, "The school itself should be completely renovated."

The letter concludes that the airmen have banked $1,200 to initiate the project of easing the plight of their guardians. However it indicated that much more in the way of food, clothing, and recreational facilities is still needed.

THEY SENT A LETTER

SAC CITY, Iowa (P)—Each member of the First Baptist Church here will get a letter June 30. They wrote those letters themselves telling about their New Year's resolutions for 1954. At a watch service, they gave them to the church clerk in self addressed envelopes. The clerk will mail them as a reminder.

ASBURY PARK, N. J. (P)—Carl Greenblum, who appeared before Sen. Joseph McCarthy's Senate subcommittee investigating purported espionage at Ft. Monmouth, has been suspended, and another employee has been cleared and returned to his original job, it was reported Thursday.

In giving the information, Charles Frankel, the attorney for both men, said Greenblum was not told any reason for his suspension.

TAX COLLECTOR OF READING TWP. FILES '53 REPORT

J. S. Baker, Reading Twp. tax collector, has filed the annual township tax statement with the office of the clerk of courts and noted that in 1953 Reading taxpayers paid a total of $35,629.05. Cost of collecting the taxes was $1,531.60.

The year-end tax report revealed that collections amounted to $6,015.85 for the township; $21,705.96 for the school district; $4,882.51 for the county, and $3,024.73 for the institution district.

The collections were made at a cost of $300.18 to the township, $879.94 to the school district, $227.09 to the county, and $124.49 to the institution district. Baker's total salary and commissions as tax collector amounted to $1,267.99.

Breakdown On Taxes

Reading Twp., with a nine mill assessment on real estate, collected $5,361.58 in taxes. Baker collected a total of $5,950.48 in township taxes, a sum which included $635.38 in prior year's debts. A total of $368.79 remains delinquent.

Schools taxes for 693 residents included a 30-mill levy and a $10 per capita judgment. Supervisors levied a total of $17,445.99 against real estate and instituted a $6,930 per capita tax. Collected was $21,647.62 with $5,580.15 still owed the school district.

County taxes included a taxable real estate valuation of $587,659 and $39,995 on occupations. Supervisors levied Reading residents the amount of $4,769.54 on real estate and $220.38 on personal property. The tax collector received $4,861.40 and listed $413.91 as delinquent.

Institution district taxes were maintained at a five mill rate and a levy of $3,138.64. Grand total collections for this purpose amounted to $3,014.23 with $403.40 still unaccounted.

Past Grands Meet With Fairfield Unit

Approximately 75 persons attended the 23rd meeting of the Adams County Past Grands Association held on Thursday night in Fairfield, with Valley Home Lodge No. 740, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, as the host group. Raymond Miller, Fairfield, president of the Past Grands, presided. The meeting opened with the singing of "America" accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ernest R. Sentz, Littlestown. John Myers, of the host lodge, gave the invocation. A report by Secretary Ernest R. Sentz, Littlestown, revealed that the following lodges were represented at the meeting, Valley Home Lodge No. 740, York Springs Lodge No. 211, Sylvania Lodge No. 613 of Littlestown, Gettysburg Lodge No. 28 of Gettysburg, and the Rebekahs of Taneytown, Westminster and Manchester.

Entertainment consisted of movies. It was announced that the next meeting will be held Tuesday, March 9, in Gettysburg. The benediction was then pronounced by John Myers, followed with the group singing of "Blest Be the Tie." Refreshments were served by the host lodge.

Jesse Turned Slight Favorite For Fight

SALT LAKE CITY (P)—Middleweight Garth Panter may be a home-town boy, but since Jesse Turner blew into town Tuesday Salt Lake City fight fans have expressed more interest in the sparkling showing made by the St. Louis Negro in his workouts.

And from all appearances, the 24-year-old Turner will hold a slight edge in odds when he and Paner climb into the ring tonight for their nationally televised 10-round bout at the Fairgrounds Coliseum.

"Got To Expect Things Like That" Says Senator George Of Word Battle With Republicans

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (P)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today the battle royal between Republicans and Democrats over GOP charges of past Communist-coddling—which roared to a cross-country crescendo on Lincoln Day—may not, after all, have much lasting effect.

"This is a political year and you've got to expect things like that," the veteran Georgia Democrat said in an interview. With congressional elections coming this year, he said, he doesn't think anything much can be done to stop the infighting.

Republican speakers—with some notable exceptions—loaded their oratorical artillery for the big Lincoln Day barrage yesterday with much the same sort of denunciation that had already brought Democratic complaints. Democrats have accused some GOP spokesmen of going beyond the laws of political warfare by seeking, so the Democrats said, to fasten the epithets of communism and treason on the minority party. President Eisenhower this week advised his fellow party members against extreme partisan utterances.

Tempered Remarks

Among the speakers who conspicuously tempered their criticism yesterday were members of the President's official family and Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Ferguson at the last minute discarded a prepared speech in which he charged that "New Dealers and Fair Dealers and Left Wingers . . . traded the lifeblood of American youth for a wartime economy . . . (and) promoted phony prosperity."

Instead, at a Republican dinner in Brooklyn, Ferguson extolled the accomplishments of the Republican party since 1860.

Some Less Restrained

Some other congressional Republicans were less restrained. Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) accused "Fair Dealers" of putting "every possible handicap" in the way of troops in Korea.

From various speakers came phrases like "disgraceful era of corruption" and "disloyal conduct of men in high places."

There were Democrats, too, who did not take the pounding as philosophically as did George. National Chairman Stephen Mitchell in Helena, Mont., accused the GOP of "a sinister campaign to plant in the mind of every person the dark suspicion that the Democratic party is somehow the party of communism."

"Very Sad," Says Adlai

Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, said last night perhaps "there is a lesson . . . for us today" in the intemperate way in which politics were conducted in Abraham Lincoln's time.

"The results were very sad indeed," Stevenson said in a CBS television interview, recalling that before the Civil War Lincoln had pleaded for moderation in political strife between regions.

Atty. Gen. Brownell in Boston quipped about "be kind to Democrats week" but said he did not think the Democrats' call for an end to extreme partisanship is a threat to block worthy legislation.

Sen. Martin Chips In

Rep. Short (R-Mo.) said in St. Louis he does not go along with the charge that the "Democratic party is the party of treason," but he remarked:

"Because the New-Fair Deal has for two decades been returned to power by telling lies about Herbert Hoover, I'm inclined to venture that the Republican party can be retained in power by telling the truth about Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry Truman."

Praising what he termed "the new and wholesome atmosphere" brought to government by the Republican administration, Sen. Martin (R-Pa.) declared "we still have a long way to go to overcome and correct the results of 20 years of socialist experimentation and the disloyal conduct of men in high places."

Council Moves To Collect Taxes

Due From 1935 to 1941: The borough council's finance committee, with full authority from council, today
started to collect $38,214.51 in back taxes due from the years 1935 to 1941. The committee will have the full support of the tax collector at that time, Harry H. Thomas.The finance committee was empowered to collect the taxes in "any way it can" after the finance committee chairman, Ray M. Hoffman, told council investigation by the committee showed more than $38-000 worth of taxes unpaid for six years.

Red Cross To Seek $26,500 War

Fund Goal: Adams County has been given the largest Red Cross War Fund quota in its history—$26,500.The sum will be sought during the annual campaign which will open March 1. This year's quota is nearly a third larger than the $18,700 quota
assigned and topped by nearly $3-000 by the county last year.

Direct Subsidy Approval Voted by

150 Farmers: Subsidies, shortages and the draft were among the subjects discussed by 150 Agricultural Adjustment Administration committeemen from five counties at the closing session of the two-day convention held at the court house here.
The men voted unanimously in favor of direct subsidies, such as that given on milk, to help the farmers through present wartime
conditions.While the men expressed themselves as being opposed to subsidies
as a general thing, they asserted that under present war-time conditions and to prevent inflation, they were in favor of direct subsidies to the farmers to meet increased cost while keeping down the costs of the food products to the ultimate consumer.Dr. Saby Heads Crippled Tois

and highest tradition of the FARWC
(Female Air Raid Warden Corps)
Tuesday afternoon.While playing "Air Raid Alarm"
with her five-year-old brother Hugh, little Ann was on duty. Suddenly the sirens sounded an air raid (Hugh being the chief siren blower).Ann dashed for her post across the field. Halfway across she struck a muddy spot. Dashing at full speed Ann raced through the mud when she suddenly she became stuck—both shoes, rubbers and stockings were off—pulled off by the sticky mud as Ann raced on. But Ann couldn't proceed—barefooted, she was too tired. Screams brought the Chief Air Raid Warden, her mother, to the rescue.Ann was none the worse for her

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

ON GIVING AND GETTING

It has been truthfully said that we get nothing out of life that we don't put into it. Nothing that we give out is ever discounted. There may be no immediate return to us
but something is planted that is sure to produce fruit. At some unexpected moment a dividend is sure to arrive.Tennyson once said: "I must lose myself in action, lest I wither
in despair." None of us can happily live to himself alone. If we want friends we must be a friend. We must give ourselves away. It won't matter if we do not get immediate appreciation. The personal satisfaction for having done something worthy enriches each one of us
the moment that it is performed.A worker's compensation is not all in his pay envelope. He is daily being educated to be a better
workman. A Mr. Curtice answered
a Want Ad in a Detroit newspaper. General Motors put it in.
Curtice was asked to call. He was engaged. He must have given greatly of himself, for today he is the president of this vast organization.One reason for the unhappiness of so many is that they live isolated, selfish lives. They complain of loneliness. It's largely because they have nothing flowing out of their lives. They are self-centered.
They are their own worst companion. Who are the happiest people? They are the ones who are forever giving out happiness where-ever and whenever the opportunity is offered. Great giving always originates in the heart, and it is to the heart that all happy returns forever flow.There is a famous saying that the only things we keep are the things that we give away.
We keep the memory and the joy anyway! We always get by giving.Protected, 1954, George Matthew

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Count the candles! Count the pieces!
Grandma, grandpas, aunt and nieces.
Hail the cake with lettering on it!
Sing the while we let upon it:
Happy birthday! Happy birthday!
This is what must be a mirth day.Make it one that he'll remember
When he reaches life's December;
Tell his children all about it.
And should they appear to doubt it,
Making sure they'll never miss one
Prove it with a cake like this one.

Soon the past succeeds the present.

Youth's the time for memories pleasant.In the light of candles glowing,
Let no sign of care be showing.
Happy birthday! Sing or shout it
So, when old, he'll talk about it.

FIRE DAMAGES
4 BUILDINGSPHILLIPSBURG, N. J. (AP)—A wind-whipped fire, out of control
for more than two hours, damaged
a church parish house, an apartment building and two other structures in the business district Thursday night.The high winds and sub-freezing
temperatures hampered firemen
battling the flames that spread quickly through the buildings. Fire units from across the river in Easton, Pa., pitched in to help the local company.Damage was estimated unofficially at about $100,000.Officials said the blaze started at about 9 p. m. in the one-story Phillipsburg Poultry Market at 446 S.
Main St., owned by Mrs. Minnie Gershenow and operated by Max
Podber.Flames spread to the Schaefer
House, a three-story hotel and restaurant at 442-444, and then to a three-story apartment building at 450, which also houses the Ponce
Tailor and Furrier Shop.The Grace Lutheran Church parish house at 452 S. Main St. was charred.The unofficial damage estimate of $100,000 was made by firemen
at the scene. Cause of the blaze was not determined.J. Powers, Atlantic City, New Jersey,

OFFERS ARMY
TO FIGHT REDSBy RELMAN MORIN
and MILO FARNETISEOUL (AP)—South Korea said Friday it has offered a full army
division to fight communism in Indochina and it asked for help from retired U. S. Gen. James Van Fleet.The government information office, in a statement indirectly
critical of the United States, said
it had been asked to help fight
the Reds in "two urgent appeals signed by the cabinet minister of the Laos government," one of the three states of Indochina.A Communist Vietnamese force of 10,000 men is driving south toward Luang Prabang, capital of Laos.South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai said in an interview that his country has offered a division to anti-Communist forces
in Indochina fighting under the French Union banner.

U. S. Fliers Help

A source in the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Paris said
it had no information of such an offer.In Tokyo, the Japanese newspaper Nippon Times said American Air Force units are flying small-scale support airlifts for French troops in Indochina, from Japan via Formosa and the Philippines.Shortly after the Pyun interview
President Syngman Rhee's government issued a sharply-worded
statement declaring:"From the United States we ask
only that it give us the services of its great soldier, Gen. Van Fleet, who achieved such miracles
in creating the Korean army and in fighting the Communists in Greece.

Praise Van Fleet

"We want Gen. Van Fleet to come and help us organize our own forces and at the same time train and organize the armies of Indochina. He could, with his tremendous energy, do both jobs, and we would cooperate by providing our own army officers to help in the training of the Indochinese."As commander of the U. S. 8th Army until his retirement late in the Korean War, Van Fleet supervised the training of South Korea's army.In a swipe at U. S. and U. N. policy in Korea, the South Korean government declared:"Our own war has been stalemated by those who pursue a selfish, personal interest and who seek to prevent us from unifying
our country. The least we can do,
then, is to help a neighboring nation before it is completely overrun by the enemy."

Save Free Nations

"If we are not allowed to finish
our own war or to assist another free country in distress, what hope is there for saving any of the free nations, including the United States
from the Communists?""Some Americans may be opposed to active intervention to help
the spread of communism in Southeast Asia, but we believe that an overwhelming majority of our friends in the United States will applaud a realistic approach to the problem. Most of them know,
as we do, that to lose in Southeast Asia is to give up to communism
the whole of the Asian continent
and its adjacent waters and islands."Pyun acknowledged in the interview that "it is quite probable"
Red China might retaliate to transfer of Korean troops to Indochina
by dispatching one or more of its divisions to help the Communist-led Vietnamese.Red Associate's

peal by William Perl of his five-year prison term for perjury in

charges he lied to a grand jury
concerning his association with Rosenberg and Sobell, electronics expert now serving a 30-year prison term.Perl was sentenced last June and

Among 27 IndictedPHILADELPHIA (AP)—Leo (Clee)
Coleman, described by local authorities as boss of a multi-million dollar gambling ring in the Philadelphia area, has been indicted
along with 26 others on lottery
charges.The February grand jury handed down the indictments Thursday.
The 26 were identified by Dist.
Atty. Richardson Dilworth's office
as associates and underlings of Coleman.The mass indictments culminated
a months-long investigation by Dilworth's office into charges that police were accepting graft from
the alleged gambling ring.

Disliked Heavy Clothes

"One thing we disliked most

life-saving suits and Mae Wests

water. Sometimes we were on the ground 40 minutes in these outfits

sitting on bucket seats. I don't know who put these regulations in, but we're going to try to put them out."The lady lawmaker did like the trips she made to the front in big helicopters. "We traveled so close to the ground we could see everything as if we were in an automobile," she said.A member of Congress since 1947, Mrs. St. George used to commute reasons for that supposition. First, Russia is now governed by a committee. It has no leader of the status of Stalin who was, in personal charge, so there is suspicion among the others. A war would upset that balance."

Reds Curb Agriculture

"The agriculture situation in Russia is such as to argue against a war now. While Russia has as much tillable land as the United States
it produces much less food because of the collectivized ideas. Communism's leaders were not farmers. They at first thought of the farmers as only providing food for the cities.
Then they came to realize that some concession must be made, that the farmers also needed food. So the leaders, city-bred, decided that the farmers might have individual plots
of their own, with about half of a collective farm devoted to the state and the other half devoted to the farmers. Because the leaders were city-bred and knew little of the farm such absurd situations
came about as having all the bulls
on the state-owned part of the farm, while the farmers shrewdly
kept the milk cows on their part of the farm.""Russia has proved above everything else that farming cannot be controlled from a central office.
They attempted trying to tell everyone what to plant and when, not realizing that it cannot be done.
Thus agriculture fell far behind in its development. Now the Russian leaders seem to realize that there is a need for tractors on farms,
and that the tractors must be made at the expense of tanks. And they are beginning to realize the able-bodied men are needed on the farm,
and can't be called to the army.
Thus the agriculture situation
mitigates against a war at this time."

Most Hate Russians

"The third reason is that Russian control of the satellite nations is ready to break at any minute. One could almost safely estimate that 95 per cent of the people in the nations controlled by Russia hate
the Russians. If a war came, Russia might win early victories, but the underground which is now disorganized in the Red-controlled countries, would soon take advantage of the Russian concentration on the war to become extremely active—just as occurred with Germany.""The new Russian leaders are younger men and they know of these"Cowboy" Joe Gets a war at this time."At the same time they are working steadily to consolidate their gains and at the same time trying to split the western Allies by sowing suspicion and ill-feeling.""The only persons who are Communist in the satellite nations are

the five per cent of the disaffected,
the bad apples in the barrel, who
are present in all countries, including our own.""There are only about 30,000 Communists in our country and that in itself is a good sign, for that is far below the five per cent one could expect.""As a career diplomat, realizing that one of the goals of the Communists is to divide us and our Allies, one cannot help but feel dependent at times about the way
American people criticize each other.
One realizes that it is traditional for politicians of different parties
to call each other names. It is probably well for them to call each other incompetent, ignorant—for they have through history. But never before have we heard so many calling others 'traitor.' That is dangerous, for it is something far different.
And it is demoralizing to all people
in government careers, for again
far more than 95 per cent of them
are decent honest citizens doing their utmost to serve their nation.""But the despondency soon leaves one when he realizes there are such organizations, as, for example, this post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.
Men who are engaged in the task of making America, raising their families, men who have served their nation and stand ready to serve
it and their community at any time,
without name calling, without bitterness, with true patriotism."VIETMINH HOLDS forces of the Communist-led Viet-minh rebels who have been in contact for four days with the exterior

defenses of Luang Prabang, eight miles northeast of the royal Laotian capital, held off again Friday.French reconnaissance has been unable to establish any important contact with the Vietminh. The French high command said the bulk of the Vietminh's crack 308th
Division is still in the Bac River Valley, about 45 or 50 miles north of Luang Prabang, but advance elements of this outfit have been sighted near the Nga River, about 15 miles farther south.French fighters and bombers bombed Vietminh units in the Bac Valley today and inflicted serious losses on them, the French command said. Fighters also attacked Vietminh forces in the Suong
River Valley, about eight miles northeast of the capital.The command attributed the slowness of the Vietminh advance to supply problems. The French recently destroyed enormous stocks
of rice held by the rebels in the Hou and Suong Valleys in preparation for the current rebel offensive.The French remained confident the Vietminh cannot take Luang Prabang with only one division.
One command theory now is that the rebels may merely seek to im-mobilize the fortress by keeping the division around it.Try a pinch of spice in summer vegetable dishes. Nutmeg turns with spinach, carrots or corn; allspice is wonderful with a mixture of tomatoes and celery and squash;
marjoram is delicious with snap
beans.

Waynesboro Tops Warriors 54-52 On Last Frame Rally; Scrubs Win In Extra Period

After setting the pace most of the way, the Gettysburg High Warriors succumbed to a last period rally by Waynesboro and dropped a thrilling 54-52 verdict to the Golden Tornado on the latter's court Friday evening.

The Warriors, who were soundly whipped here earlier in the campaign by Waynesboro, surprised with a fine exhibition and appeared headed for victory when Waynesboro suddenly spurred in the opening minutes of the final quarter.

Gettysburg led 40-36 going into the final frame. Tom Cross, the league's leading scorer, hooped a lay-up and added two fouls to knot the score after 2:00. Caron drove under to put Waynesboro in front but Bobby Rohrbaugh tied it at 42-42 on a side toss. Caron went in for another layup and again Rohrbaugh hit on a long heave.

Caron once again drove through to score with Jay Schmitt retreating on a one-handed, Hartle looped a short shot and Provand made it 50-46 with two minutes remaining. A foul by Schmitt was followed by Caron's fourth goal of the evening. Cross converted a pair of fouls to put the Tornado ahead 54-47 with but 1:12 remaining.

Make Late Stand
At that point the Warriors, who had been using a zone defense, came out and nearly pulled the game from the fire. Rohrbaugh netted a foul and George Penn dribbled through for a layup. Schmitt made a steal of the ball and hit from the outside just seconds before the final whistle.

Schmitt and Cross led their respective teams with 20 points each. Rohrbaugh came through for 17 tallies for the Forney-men.

A goal by Rolf Johnson just before the end of the extra period gave the Warrior reserves a thrilling 40-39 decision in the overtime preliminary.

Next Tuesday Mechanicsburg will come here for a pair of league games.

Virginia Matmen Here Tonight For Double Program

A double-header wrestling program is offered local fans tonight when the Gettysburg College varsity and freshman matmen will meet the University of Virginia.

The Cavalier varsity has a 6-1 record while the freshmen are unbeaten.

The preliminary meet between the yearlings is listed to start at 7:15 o'clock.

CARDINALS OPEN THEIR TRAINING CAMP IN FLORIDA

NEW YORK (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals' advance spring training camp is open today and their 1954 salary worries are pretty much of a closed question.

At about the time a squad of 75 rookies began limbering up at Deland, Fla., star second baseman Red Schoendienst and Ray Jablonski, rookie third baseman of 1953, reached for pens to sign new contracts in the Cardinal offices in St. Louis.

Harvey Haddix, the Redbirds top hurler last year with a 20-7 won-lost mark and 3.06 earned run average, had agreed to terms earlier in the day.

The Milwaukee Braves, meanwhile, admitted shortstop Johnny Logan and second baseman Jack Dittmer were something less than happy about their proffered contracts.

General Manager John Quinn pointed out the pair can't be classed as holdouts unless and until they fail to report March 1.

Schoendienst, Jablonski and Haddix were by far the biggest names in the comparatively small group of major leaguers to come to terms with the clubs yesterday.

Schoendienst, the National League's second leading hitter in 1953 with an average of .342, said he was "well satisfied" with a salary increase which reportedly brought his pay close to the $50,000 bracket. He received about $35,000 last season.

Jablonski hit 21 home runs in his first season, two more than Johnny Mize hit as a rookie, and batted in 112 runs. Haddix was believed to have doubled his $7,000 salary of last year.

More Sign Papers
Brooklyn signed rookie third baseman Don Hoak and sub outfielders Dick Williams and Bill Antonello, while the Philadelphia Phillies received the signed contract of Johnny Lindell, knuckleballer obtained from Pittsburgh last season.

HABEEB ENDS FINE COLLEGE CAGE CAREER

Tonight the Gettysburg College cagers meet Lehigh at Bethlehem and the loss of Johnny Habeeb is expected to again be keenly felt.

Habeeb, a senior, is out for the season after suffering torn ligaments and a severe sprain of the left foot sustained Tuesday at Lancaster.

Since becoming a member of the varsity squad in his sophomore year, Habeeb has scored a total of 604 points in 49 contests. During his sophomore season he netted 43 points in 15 games, and last season he led the team with 341 points in 22 games, for a 15.5 average. In 13 games this season he again was pacing the club with a total of 220 points for an 18.3 average.

Especially effective from the foul line this year, Habeeb had dropped 7. for 98 and boasted a 73 per cent in this department.

His field goals percentage was a better-than-average 40, having dropped 74 field goals in 185 attempts. His best scoring nights this season came against Mt. St. Mary's, Wagner, Hofstra and Virginia, when he netted 25, 24, 24, and 23 points respectively. Habeeb had served as co-captain of the Gettysburg team since the beginning of the season.

The Bullets, who have won nine and lost five to date, have eight remaining games on the schedule. Included in those contests are meetings with Penn State, Navy and Lafayette.

GIAMBRA WINS ON SPLIT VOTE AS FANS BOO

NEW YORK (AP)—Joey Giambra lost face, Italo Scorticini lost face and TV fans lost their temper.

That was the net result of last night's 10-round cross country race at Madison Square Garden where Giambra won an unpopular split decision over Scorticini.

One TV viewer even called the AP office in New York from Los Angeles to protest about the "lousy" decision. Most of the 3,011 who paid $7.48 to watch in person bombarded the officials with their boos.

Giambra Was Favorite
Judge Frank Forbes voted for Giambra 7-3 and Referee Ruby Goldstein also gave Giambra the edge 6-3-1. Judge Artie Aida saw it for Scorticini 5-4-1. The AP card agreed with Aida's. Eight of 13 ringside boxing writers sided with Scorticini.

Giambra, a 4 to 1 favorite, even disappointed his manager, Tex Sullivan, although Tex thought he won all the way.

Scorticini confused Giambra, the No. 8 ranking middleweight, by backing away and circling, first one way and then the other.

Biglerville and Boiling Springs set a perfect stage for their big game at Boiling Springs Monday evening by winning their Adams County Basketball League games Friday evening. The Cannons are but one game back of the Bubblers and their lone loss was to Boiling Springs earlier in the season at Biglerville.

Terry Hutton rammed through 27 points as the Cannons trounced New Oxford 54-42 at Biglerville. Hutton, the boys' leading scorer, now has a total of 258 points. Coach Dick Allison's outfit piled up a 45-23 lead at the end of three periods to safely withstand a 20-point spree by New Oxford in the final period. Dale Little paced the losers with 10 points.

Boiling Springs maintained its perfect record by easily defeating East Berlin 74-30 on the latter's floor. It was the 12th straight for the Bubblers in league competition and their 20th against but two losses for the season. Eleven of Coach Bud Ecker's 12 participants broke into the scoring. Bream led with 19 points while Gruver topped the Indians with nine.

Lynn Golden ran wild for York Springs to lead his team to an 82-53 victory over Newville at York Springs. Golden poured 36 points into the cords to run his league total to 245. Weigle added 21. Newville battled the Springers on even terms in the first half and was deadlocked 33-33 at half time. However, in the last half Pete Kemper's lads took complete charge to win handily.

Littlestown moved into fourth place by crushing Fairfield 70-36 on the Thunderbolts' floor. The Bolts got off to a 20-1 lead in the first period and never had any worries thereafter. Dean Yealy hooped 21 tallies for the winners with Jay Showmaker adding 20. Ed Spence netted 12 for Fairfield.

JR. HI CAGERS DEFEATED 36-29 BY WAYNESBORO

The Gettysburg Junior High cagers dropped their fifth game of the season against six wins when they became 36-29 victims of Waynesboro here Friday evening.

Coach Luther Sachs' team got off to a good start and led 9-6 in the first period. At half time Waynesboro had pulled into a 16-15 lead and then outscored the locals in both of the succeeding two periods.

Gettysburg was not as sharp in ball handling as it had been in recent games while muffed shots in the late stages of the game proved costly.

E. Little sparked the locals with seven tallies while Gardenhour netted 13 for the visitors.

Ira Kerr's jayvees played a vastly improved brand of ball to win the preliminary 28-23.

Gives Some Tips On How To Obtain Better Gas Mileage; Get Above "Slippage Point"

Pedestrians who try to cross busy intersections know only one season of year—spring.

In all the current effort to obtain better gas mileage one important fact seems to be overlooked. This is the need for accelerating the car to a speed above that which is expected to be maintained and then easing off on the accelerator until this desired speed is reached and maintained. This is commonly done in aviation for best results. Unless the operator of a car follows this rule he is likely to be continually trying to get up to the desired speed. There is a dragging effect which is all the more wasteful in the case of cars which have a torque converter in place of a mechanical clutch. Until the car is safely above the slippage point there can be no real economy.

This procedure does not, of course, justify flash getaways. There should be no wasteful acceleration—just a normal gain to a speed a little above that at which the car rolls along easiest. Then ease off on the gas. You'll be surprised how the car will continue to maintain the desired gain with a lighter foot on the gas pedal. In the case of automatic drives get up above 30 mph without undue delay, smoothly, progressively, yet without hurrying.

That noise you hear somewhere in the chassis may be due to a loose spacer in the frame side rail. Such spacers are used in some cars and may be loosened by twisting of the car during rough going. The remedy is to bolt the loosened sections andpeen the ends so that they cannot come loose.

In winter driving around town you'll check tread wear by inflating the tires about two pounds higher. This is because there will be less pressure build-up in this kind of driving. However, be sure to check the pressures when the tires are cool.

My contacts in the tire field tell me that pressure build-up is more a matter of friction of the tires during high speed travel than actual temperature of the road surface. They point out that they can get as much build-up dirt on plug tops encourages accumulation of grease. That, in turn, collects moisture from condensation and invites what is known as flash-over. This means plug failure and more fouling of its points.

Checks Breaking Glass

Two readers have simultaneously come up with an answer to protecting car windows from breaking when the doors are closed with all windows shut. It is so tight with many of the newer cars there have been numerous cases where glass has been broken by concussion. Some owners get around this by leaving one of the windows slightly open, but this isn't practical when leaving the car parked in wind and rain. A simple solution for cars with fresh air ventilating systems is to open one of the ducts which leads from the front of the car. This is sufficient to check compression, and doesn't allow water to get into the car.

Keep Tank Filled

I have continually stressed the importance of keeping the gas tank filled at all times, as a means of checking condensation which is the basic cause of water in the fuel system. This rule extends into summer, however. In fact, it goes for the entire year. If you are driving along with the tank nearly empty the remaining fuel evaporates more rapidly and finds a handy exit in the gas tank air vent.

Owners of new cars are often inclined to drive until the tank is nearly empty so that they can fill up and at one time make a check on gas mileage. It would be better to break this up and not run the tank so low, regardless of the season of year.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. Why do the rims of my car get so rusty? Whenever I dismount the tires I find that the rims need cleaning with a wire brush. Checked a friend's rims when he was putting on snow tires last fall and found them clean and smooth. J. F. D.

A. Your car is old. Rims get this way after a lot of service and exposure to the elements.

Q. Where was the Chadwick car made? F. L. M.

A. At Pottstown, Pennsylvania, according to the owner of a recently rebuilt Type 19 Chadwick as outlined in the Antique Automobile.

Q. I have one of the transmission systems in which there are two gear ranges with a high and low in each. Recently the car tends to have very sluggish shifting. Nothings seems to be wrong with the transmission itself or its controls. Wm. H.

A. Improper engine idling will cause this. I would check for sticking of the accelerator pedal's linkage to the carburetor. There may also be a weak throttle return spring.

Q. Checking the spark plugs the other day I found them very dirty. This is the first I have noticed any such condition. T. L.

A. The chances are that the oil is badly thinned out and is pumping up past the piston rings. You may have been doing an unusual amount of short-run driving with the engine never really warming up.

Q. The engine of my car has been getting harder to start day by day. Have made a very careful check of all the usual things but so far no luck. Cranking speed is normal. Delays in starting have had a tendency to foul the plugs but I have kept them clean. The engines get good spark. There is the normal float level in the carburetor. T. B. McN.

A. How about ignition timing? Engines tend to go late, and when timing is on the late side starting always is sluggish.

Q. Recently there has been considerable interference in the radio of my car. It's general, not on any one station. A. A. H.

A. I'm not versed in radio equipment, but since this question involves care of the car I suggest that you check for corroded battery terminals.

Q. I'm having quite a time with draggy brakes. Have adjusted them several times, but still get a drag when using the car.

A. Have you checked the brake shoes and drums for wear?

Q. I have a 1954 Dodge and I am having trouble with the engine. It seems to be running rough and I am getting poor gas mileage.

A. Have you checked the spark plugs and the air filter?

DODGE OPENS CONTEST FOR ANNIVERSARY

To draw attention to its 40th anniversary as a manufacturer of automobiles, Dodge has announced plans to launch a nationwide contest which will offer grand-prize winners two-week vacations with double their pay and other major awards. Dewey McCauslin, proprietor of McCauslin Auto Sales, 334-36 York St., said the contest will run until midnight March 29. A grand-prize winner every day for the 40 days the contest will run will have a new 1954 Dodge placed at his or her disposal, including gas and oil, for the "two-weeks away with double pay" period.

In addition to double-pay, grand-prize winners will have all their transportation, meals and hotel accommodations paid by Dodge and be given an extra $500 in cash to save or spend as they please.

The two-week vacation is for two people, with the double-pay being based on the one whose salary or wage is the higher. Additional prizes totaling $10,000 will be awarded to other grand-prize winners.

Contestants will be eligible for the contest, Mr. McCauslin said, by visiting their nearest Dodge dealer. The dealer will furnish them with an entry blank upon which they will be asked to complete in 25 words or less this sentence: "I would like to take my vacation in a 1954 Dodge because..."

The entry blank may be completed and left at the dealership, or taken home by the contestant for completion and then mailed to the contest's headquarters.

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Fifty teenage boys staged a mass brawl in South Philadelphia Thursday, tying up traffic during the 10-minute riot. Police who broke up the fight said they could not determine the cause. They said there were no serious injuries and no arrests.

especially when first starting out. I know that the linings do not have high spots and the drums were recently checked and found to be true. T. G. Jr.

A. My belief is that you have been making adjustments when the brakes are hot. Thus when they cool clearances are lost and the drag begins.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford, 7, Conn., and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

Receives Plaque For 4 Years' Training

Myrl Taughinbaugh, mechanic at McCauslin Auto Sales, York St., has received a bronze plaque in recognition of having successfully completed four years of participation in a course of advanced automotive mechanics.

Notification came from W. B. Rice, director of service of Plymouth and administrator of the nationwide training program under which more than 100,000 mechanics have received special training in the servicing of Chrysler Corporation cars and trucks. The training program is known nationally as the Master Technician Service Conference.

Rice says, "The Master Tech program is the largest and among the most successful mechanical training programs ever attempted by American industry. It assures car owners of expert service by master technicians—men who keep up-to-date on modern service methods."

PARIS (P)—The French National Assembly now has 12 political parties.

They are: Socialists; Communists; Catholics (MRP); Union of Republican and Social Action (De Gaullists); Republican and Social Action (ex-De Gaullists); Radical Socialists (moderates); Socialist and Democratic Union of the Resistance (close to the Radical Socialists); Republican Independents (right wingers); Overseas Independents; Progressists (allied with the Communists); Independent Peasants (right wingers) and Peasants (right wingers, but more agricultural.)

REDS HOPE TO BARE WESTERN SPLIT ON CHINA

SEOUL (P)—Informed sources in Korea, who have negotiated with the Communists, said today Russia stands a good chance to achieve one of its major objectives—exposing a split in Western policy towards Red China—if a major power conference on the Far East is held.

The question of convening a Far Eastern conference is under discussion among the Big Four foreign ministers now meeting in Berlin. The news that Russia's V. M. Molotov will propose an assembly including representatives of Asian nations came as no surprise here.

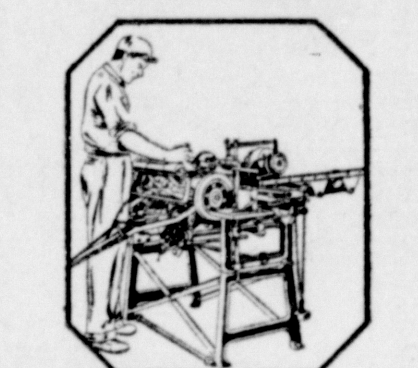

What They Want
A top authority, who declined to be identified, said such a move was anticipated when efforts to arrange a political settlement on Korea failed.

"We long ago advised Washington that the Communists have no intention of concluding a political agreement on Korea," he said. "What they really want is a Far Eastern conference in which those

NEW YORK (P)—A man found dying of stab wounds in Harlem has been identified as a former Communist who trained in Moscow but later turned against the party.

The victim, Charles White, 51, a Negro, had appeared as a witness in deportation hearings against Communists and was scheduled for new testimony.

In 1948, he testified at a hearing which resulted in the deportation of a mysterious J. Peters, who was described as a top Communist agent in this country.

American Diplomats Believe Rhee's Threat Only "Bluff"

WASHINGTON (AP)—American diplomats were understood today to view South Korean President Syngman Rhee's threat to march against North Korea as a bluff—just what he said it wasn't intended to be.

They also were known to hold out slight hope for his government's offer of troops for Indochina.

A French Embassy spokesman said yesterday his government—which still has not received the offer officially—would reject the proffered South Korean division for fear its involvement in the ugly eight-year-old war might bring on open Red Chinese intervention in Indochina.

The French commissioner general for Indochina said in Bangkok today that his country still is ready to negotiate a settlement with the insurgent Vietnamese, Maurice Dejean, the commissioner, charged at a news conference that military help from China is prolonging the conflict.

Dejean said France is trying to prevent "another Korea" and he voiced confidence that the Vietnamese rebels would be repelled from the Laotian capital of Luang Prabang. Enemy elements, he said, are within 12½ miles of that city.

The Indochina problem caused some political repercussions in France, where Assemblyman Pierre Mendes-France charged last night in a speech at Vernon that Foreign Minister George Bidault is begging Mao Tse-tung, the Red Chinese leader, to stop backing the Vietnamese.

Mendes-France demanded that France negotiate a truce directly with Ho Chi Minh, the Vietnamese chief.

In Paris, French officials and those of the invaded kingdom of Laos said there is no foundation for reports that the Laotian government had asked for the ROK troops.

In this connection, the South Korean defense minister, Sohn Won Il, said in Seoul his nation is prepared to send land, sea and air forces to help the French. He said they would be volunteers.

Diplomatic officials in Washington were inclined to discount another South Korean proposal—that U. S. Gen. James A. Van Fleet come out of retirement to train both ROK and Indochinese troops. Van Fleet commanded the 8th Army in Korea during the build-up of the ROK's 16 divisions.

Recent moves by Rhee—including the troop offer—were regarded as efforts to underline persisting South Korean unhappiness over the division of Korea at roughly the 38th parallel.

GOP Chieftains Are Taking Of Ike's Re-election In 1956

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Powerful Republicans are taking of President Eisenhower as their candidate again in 1956 although his first White House year is just over and he has three more years of his first term to go.

Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Gov. Dewey of New York, Republicans who are miles apart at least geographically, in the past few days have expressed belief Eisenhower will run again.

He's 63 now. He'll be 66 when the 1956 presidential election arrives. If he runs and wins he'll be 70 when he finally leaves the White House since, under the Constitution, he couldn't have more than two terms.

McCarthy said Thursday that if the elections were being held now Eisenhower would be his candidate. "And I think he'll be the candidate in 1956."

Dewey Predicts Victory
Dewey, a two-time loser in his own try for the White House, said last week he hoped and expected Eisenhower to be a 1956 candidate and predicted he'd win.

Eisenhower himself is keeping mum. He has sidestepped news conference questions about his 1956 intentions. He probably doesn't know himself what he'll want to do then. It's too far ahead.

He's still immensely popular, as public opinion polls show. But this is something which may grow or diminish in the fiery furnace of events. Facing him are problems, visible and unknown, big enough to make or break him. A bad depression, for instance, could wreck his chances for re-election. But continued high prosperity would be a big boost.

The Republicans may not find it hard to persuade Eisenhower, a man with a high sense of public service, to run again if things go all right and particularly if they can't find an alternate they think could win.

Good Public Relations
His job hasn't been unpleasant—from the standpoint of public relations: Democrats, Republicans and people generally. He's thrown no mud and no one has smeared him.

This freedom from tarnish is too much to expect if he stays in politics long enough. It happened to George Washington after a while. And it happened in large doses to Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday Friday the Republicans have been honoring for a week.

When he made his first in a series of countrywide speeches at Republican celebrations of the Lincoln birthday, McCarthy spoke of the "idiotcy" of a Truman, Eisenhower's predecessor.

"Idiot" was a word Lincoln had tossed at him in his day, in addition to such pleasantries as "ape" and "buffoon."

If you are thinking of using black, navy blue or brown in your kitchen color scheme, remember that these dark colors show dust and other soil more quickly than lighter tones.

'SHORE BUSMEN REMAIN STRUCK; ONE ARRESTED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Striking bus drivers continued "coursery car" service to West Shore communities Friday despite arrest of one of them on a charge of operating an automobile for pay without a permit.

The striking driver, Richard P. Shover paid a fine of $25 and $7 costs Thursday after two investigators of the Public Utility Commission took him before Alderman John L. Madden.

The investigators said each dropped 25 cents in the ash tray of Shover's car after riding with him across the mile-long Susquehanna River Bridge from nearby Lemoyne.

Utility Violation
Alderman Madden ruled that constituted a violation of the utility law against transportation for pay without a permit. However, he said he was holding Shover's check pending an expected appeal.

Meantime, the status quo was maintained in the strike for a wage increase of 82 West Shore bus drivers against the Valley Transportation Co. which provides bus service between Harrisburg and a dozen communities across the Susquehanna River in Cumberland County.

The strike started Tuesday leaving that area without bus service. Car pools, private automobiles and the strikers' "coursery cars" have since provided transportation to the West Shore area.

Issued Warning
At the outset of the strike the Public Utility Commission said an automobile driver would be subject to arrest if he extends his hand for a donation as the rider alights; if a box or other container is exhibited for deposit, or if the driver expresses an attitude implying a donation is expected.

A spokesman for the Utility Commission said that court rulings have upheld its position in the "coursery car" situation. However, Mr. Herbert Syme, counsel for the union representing the drivers, took issue with the commission's view.

Syme said in a statement that the commission, instead of arresting drivers, should schedule a hearing at which "evidence and testimony will be taken, arguments heard and a rational decision arrived at."

Syme defended the "coursery car" operation as a service to the public in the strike situation.
